Dear HHS,

I oppose the mandate to cover contraception and abortifacient birth control in the new health care plan. More importantly, I strenuously oppose the attack by the Obama administration on my religious freedom. As an American, as a taxpayer, as a person of faith, I believe that I should not have to pay for another person's abortion or birth control. I am not to be held financially responsible for someone's else's choice to have or refrain from sex.

Please remove this mandate, and do not force me to pay for someone else's birth control. It is not health care. It would make as much sense as if I asked my fellow taxpayers to pay for my aromatherapy because I felt that it prevented stress.

Thank you for your time.
